

Commercial Law Research Network - Nigeria (CLRN_N): Call for Participation in Early Career Researchers' Methodology Training

The Commercial Law Research Network – Nigeria (CLRN_N) invites applications to its inaugural Early Career Researchers' Methodology Workshop. CLRN_N is a network through which researchers connect to influence the development of Commercial Law and policy in Nigeria. It promotes the application of inter-disciplinary research methods to the analysis of commercial law and policy in Nigeria, encourages collaborations amongst members and contributes to the development of the next generation of researchers.

In line with its main aims, CLRN_N invites commercial law researchers studying for their doctorate degrees and those within 5 years of their first academic post to participate at its inaugural methodology workshop to be held on the 13th of September 2019 at the University of Reading. The workshop will provide an avenue through which they can be introduced to, discuss and develop methodologies.

Interested researchers should apply, describing their main research questions, outlining the methodologies applied thus far, and explaining how these methods support considered resolution of their research questions. Applications, which must not exceed one-side of an A4 paper, should be sent to Dr Bolanle Adebola at b.adebola@reading.ac.uk no later than the 10th of July 2019. Selected participants will be informed of the decision by the 31st of July.

Contributions will be made towards the attendance expenses of selected participants.
